Ten days loss of time on account of sickness and a doctor bill to pay, is anything but pleasant for a man or a family to contemplate, whether he is a laborer, mechanic, merchant or publisher. Jas. O.
Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexico, Texas, was sick in bed for ten days with the grip during its prevalence a year or two ago. Later in the season he had a second attack. In the latter case the case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with considerable success. I think only being in bed a little over two days. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy. It should be borne in mind that the grip is much the same as a very severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. When you wish to cure a cold quickly and effectively give this remedy a trial. Twenty-five and 50 cent a bottle. For sale by all druggists.

'THE WICHITA PEERLESS EXPRESS.'

New Train Service.

Commencing Sunday, Nov. 19, the Missouri Pacific railway will place in service a new train—The Wichita Peerless Express—between Wichita and Kansas City and St. Louis and all eastern points.
This train will start from Wichita, daily, at 9:05 a. m. (Starting from here it will necessarily always leave on time.) It will run through to Kansas City, solid, consisting of Pullman sleeper, chair car and coach. The Missouri Pacific Railway company is the only line that gives the Wichita people a strictly Wichita train, that is to say, the only line that starts its trains from Wichita. Remember this, and when you contemplate a trip leaving Wichita in the evening, don't fail to take the Wichita Peerless, and thus start on time in advertisement.

If you should wish to start on your journey in the day time you can't possibly do better than to take the Missouri Pacific fast mail and express which leave Wichita at 1 o'clock p. m. and lands you in St.
Louis the next morning at 7:15. By taking this train you will save four hours travel between Wichita and St. Louis, making New York in less than fifty hours from the time you leave the Peerless. Princess.
The new train which goes into effect Nov. 19th will show a number of important changes, which will be fully shown in time tables published in the daily papers.
Passengers can learn full particulars relative to this superb train service by calling at Missouri Pacific city ticket office, 114 North Main street. 615 1/2

On Jan. 16, Feb. 13, March 23, and April 24, 1894, the Missouri Pacific Railway company will sell excursion tickets to the following described territory at one fare for the round trip. To all points on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railway in Arkansas, east of and including Fort Smith; on the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis railway, in Missouri; beyond Springfield and in Arkansas on the Kansas City, Memphis and Birmingham railway; on the Mobile and Ohio south of Tupelo; on the Illinois Central railway south of Memphis, but not including New Orleans. The limit on these tickets will be thirty days from date of sale. For further information call at the Missouri Pacific ticket office, 114 North Main street Wichita, Kansas. E. E. Beckley, Pass and Ticket Agent.

Mrs. Emily Turner, who resides at Toledo, Washington, says she has never been able to procure any medicine for rheumatism that relieves the pain so quickly and effectually as Chamberlain's Pain Balm and that she has also used it for lame back with great success. For sale by all druggists.

Winter Touring Route via the Santa Fe Route.

A RETIRED BURLGAR'S STORY.

Curious Happenings in a House in a Pennsylvania Town.

I think that about as curious an experience as I ever had," said a retired burlgar to a reporter, "I had a house in western Pennsylvania. I had got into a fine big house there without much trouble, and had found things when I got inside about as I expected to find them. There was some silver in the dining room, and I nipped a few little things that I could get into my overcoat pockets handily, but I had other things in mind, and I went on into the next room, which turned out to be the library. As I threw my light around this room, I saw on a table in the center a magazine open and lying face downward. I picked up this magazine and turned my bull's-eye on it, and saw that it was open at the beginning of a story. The title caught my eye, and I stood there for a moment with the magazine in one hand and the bull's-eye in the other, and read a few lines. It seemed to be a mighty interesting story. Whoever had been reading the magazine had sat in a big leather chair, which still remained alongside the table. I sat down in this big chair, stood the bull's-eye on the table at my elbow where its light would strike the pages, and began to read, and became so interested that I forgot that I was there on business.

"I don't know how long I had been reading, maybe twenty minutes or so, when I felt a hand on my right shoulder.
I looked up and saw standing alongside of me a tall man in a dressing gown. He had a lamp in his right hand; he had touched me with his left, and that hand still remained upon my shoulder. He looked down upon me coolly. I confess that as far as I was concerned I was surprised, and when he asked me what I was doing there I was at first actually too flabbergasted to reply, but I finally told him I was reading a story in that magazine. He asked me what story I was reading, and I told him. I thought I saw just the faintest flicker of a smile on his face at that, but I couldn't be certain about it.

"What do you think of it?" says he.
"I had come back to myself by this time, and I told him I thought he ought to be able to see what I thought of it himself. I was interested in it enough to let him come down and find me reading it, but that I wouldn't undertake to say what I thought about it absolutely until I had finished reading it.

"Well," says the man, "don't let me interrupt you. Go ahead and finish it." "He was looking perfectly calm and cool, just as he had been when I first looked up at him. He let his lamp down on the table by the bull's-eye, and pulled up a big chair himself on the other side, and got another chair to put his feet on; he had only slippers on, and I suppose he thought his feet would be cold on the floor. He sat down on the big chair, put his feet up on the other, and pulled his dressing gown up around his legs, making himself quite comfortable. Then he picked up a book off the table and went to reading, while he waited for me to finish the story. When I had finished the man said:

"Well, what do you think of it now?"
"And I told him, and that's what I did think about it, that I thought it was immense.

"The man laid down his book and got up on his seat again. He picked up his lamp and stood there for a moment holding it and looking at me. He said nothing, but it was perfectly clear to me that he was about politely to bow me out of the house. I laid down the magazine and picked up my bull's-eye and moved toward the door just as I might have done if I had been a guest.
The tall man opened the door and calmly bowed me out. As I went down the steps I heard him bolting the door after me.

"You know I wondered who it could be, but when I came to find out, I wondered that I hadn't thought of it myself before; he was the man that wrote the story."—N. Y. Sun.

Crossing.

At a certain fashionable bazaar a short time ago a gentleman asked for a cup of coffee and inquired the price.
The lady who served it and who was the daughter of an earl took a sip out of the cup and said:

"A guinea, if you please."

He then put down the guinea and said:

"Thank you, but would you mind giving me a clean cup?"—London Tit-Bits.

FARMS ACROSS THE SEAS.

ATTEMPTS to cultivate potatoes in the Nilgiri hills, India, from imported English seed have been only partially successful, on account of the deterioration of the seed before it reached its final destination.

Over a million acres of coffee land were sold during last year in the single state of Vera Cruz, Mexico. The purchasers were of various nationalities, including Americans, Englishmen, Germans, Frenchmen and Belgians.

The coffee plantations of Coorg, India, have been invaded by borers, which threaten great damage. There are two varieties of the coffee borers, the white and the red, and both are equally destructive in the larval stage.

"Trot culture has been successfully undertaken in South Africa, the eggs having been carried there from England. Several thousand young trout from the hatcheries have been distributed to various rivers in Cape Colony.

Prof. Schrebauer, of the National Agronomic institute, Paris, reports that of thirty-nine varieties of oats with which he experimented, the best was the Beseler. It surpassed all the others in the production of both grain and straw.

SOME GREAT COMPOSERS.

MEYERBEER could sing popular melodies at two years of age, at seven he was an accomplished pianist, and at nine was considered the best performer in Berlin.

BELLINI was the son of an organist in Catania, in Sicily, and began his musical career by playing on the organ while held in the arms of his father.

BERLIOZ, the composer of many majestic works, never learned to play any instrument save the guitar, and that so badly that no one would willingly listen to him.

SPONH always declared that he owed his knowledge of composition and harmony to the study of Mozart's scores, who, in turn, admitted his obligations to Bach.

MOZART was small and slight. His face was very thin and pale, and his nose, always prominent, became much more so from the extreme emaciation of his later years.

HAYDN was fond of imitating animal sounds in his symphonies. In these compositions will be found imitations of the cat, horse, cow, cuckoo, grasshopper and donkey.

THE PUNISHMENT OF CRIME.

CAPITAL punishment in Denmark is executed publicly with an axe. If several are to be decapitated on the same date one is not present while another is executed.

In many cities of Europe women of known bad character are forbidden to appear on the public streets during daylight save with a written permission from the chief of police.

NEARLY one-fourth of the arrests in Calcutta last year were for not abating nuisances. The sanitary laws in a tropical country must be strictly enforced if public health is to be preserved.

One penalty of infraction of French prison discipline is seating the prisoner on the ground, bound hand and foot with strong belts fastened to rings in the wall, so that he cannot stir.

The treadmill and crank labor are still in use in English prisons. When a prisoner is unable to perform this kind he is set to breaking stone or picking oakum. His only reading matter is the Bible.

A MUSICAL MELANGE.

GOUNOD received his first instruction in music from his mother, who was a distinguished pianist. He won the grand prize at the Paris conservatory when he was twenty-one.

DOZZI was his own librettist.
Several acts of Lucia and La Favorita, as well as of other operas, were written by him, the libretto furnished not satisfying his views of what it should be.

BETHOVEN liked to work either in the fields or in a beer garden. In summer time he always wrote in the open air, when the weather permitted, and generally with a glass of beer at his elbow.

FREDERICK THE GREAT was ambitious to be thought a composer of music.
Over one hundred and twenty of his pieces have been found, and are now in the imperial library of Berlin.
They are, if possible, worse than his poetry.

A CORNER ON JOKES.

"Was it come opera that you heard last night?" "Pooh, no! I couldn't hear half that was said by the people in the next box."

"Has Dr. Bitterpill had a great practice here?" "Well, I should say so; the cemetery has had to be enlarged twice inside of a year."

"What is Hopper wearing ear muffs for?" "—On account of the mild weather." "Great Cesar! why?" "The girls next door can keep their windows open when they practice, now."

"Glorious! old fellow: so her father said yes when you asked him?" "Yes."
"How did you put the question?"
"Asked him if he had any objection to me."—Inter Ocean.
